Genoa, February 4. N. S.

THE Senate hath order'd a Manifeſto to be publiſh'd, to juſtifie their Conduct towards the Pope, in relation to the Buſineſs of the Friar Granelli. Signor Grimaldi is gone to Rome, with Inſtructions from the Republick, to ſettle their Differences with that See about Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdictions. They write from Porta Spetia, that the Queen's Ships the Colcheſter, Dartmouth, Lion and Ormond were gone from thence to Leghorn, in order to take on Board the Proviſions that were got ready there for Her Majeſty's Fleet. We have received Advice from Barcelona, that General Starenberg had ſent his Army into Winter Quarters.

Venice, February 10. N. S. Several ſmall Ships are come in here from the Levant. They bring an Account, that the Turks make great Preparations for War. We have received Advice from Rome, that on the thirtieth paſt a Conſiſtory was held there, and the Pope created four new Cardinals, Monſignor Erba Odeſcalchi, Archbiſhop of Milan; the Archbiſhop of Seville; the Biſhop of Barcelona; and the Abbot Polignac. The Marquis de Prie and Monſignor Molinos, have proteſted againſt this Promotion, and made no Rejoicings upon it. One Hat remains ſtill vacant, which it is thought is reſerved for ſome Perſon to be recommended by King Auguſtus. The Pope found himſelf very much incommoded by the Fatigue he underwent that Day, and his Aſthma is now return'd upon him with as much Violence as ever. The Marquis de Suſa was arriv'd at Rome, and the Electoral Prince of Saxony is expected there in a few Days. They write from Naples, that four hundred Soldiers had been Imbark'd on Board ſeveral Tartans, and ſailed Weſtward, without publiſhing to what Place they are deſigned.

Dreſden, February 7. N. S. Yeſterday Baron Lewendael, Great Marſhal of this Court, ſet out from hence towards Poland, by which it is thought that the King our Elector intends to continue for ſome time in that Country. Letters from Warſaw bring an Account, that the Diet had come to a Reſolution, that the Army of the Crown ſhould conſiſt of Thirty ſix thouſand effective Men, but they ſeem'd unwilling to enter upon Ways and Means for maintaining them, till the Great Treaſurer had cleared his Accounts, after which it is believed that they will not only raiſe the neceſſary Funds for the Subſiſtance of theſe Forces, but alſo of Six thouſand Saxons that have been for ſome time on the Poliſh Eſtabliſhment. Theſe Letters add, that the Palatin of Mazovia, Ambaſſador to the Grand Signior, had ſent an Account of his Reception at the Port, very different from what had been given out by thoſe of King Staniſlaus's Party; aſſuring the Court, that he was very well received, was allowed One hundred and fifty Crowns a Day for his Expence, and had been ſeveral times in Conference with the Turkiſh Miniſters.

Copenhagen, February 13. N. S. The 3d of this Month was obſerved here as a ſolemn and extraordinary Day of Prayer and Humiliation to implore the Divine Bleſſing on the Arms of his Daniſh Majeſty and his Allies. There hath for ſome time been a Negotiation on foot with Baron Odycke, to engage him to lend the King a conſiderable Sum of Mony, but he hath hitherto lent only Ten thouſand Crowns, and inſiſts upon ſuch Conditions for larger Sums, as will hardly be complied with, notwithſtanding the great Neceſſity we have for Money. This hath obliged the Government to lay ſome new Taxes on the People. On the 8th Inſtant two Men of War ſail'd from hence to the North Sea, and they are to be follow'd very ſoon by two more, which with two or three Frigats that are there already, are thought to be ſufficient to keep the Swediſh Squadron at Gottenburg from venturing to Sea. The 9th being the Anniverſary of raiſing the Siege of this Place, it was celebrated here as uſual. Advice is come from Jutland, that the Tranſport Ships which for ſome time have been expected from Norway, were at laſt arrived; but as we have had ſeveral Reports before to the ſame effect, which afterwards prov'd falſe, we don't yet give an entire Credit to this Account.

Utrecht, February 24. N. S. Yeſterday the Imperial and French Plenipotentiaries were together in Conference with thoſe of Her Majeſty, upon the Subject of evacuating Catalonia, and this Day thoſe Miniſters were ſeparately with their Lordſhips upon the ſame Affair, and afterwards the French and Pruſſians were with them about the Intereſts of their reſpective Maſters. Yeſterday the former diſpatch'd a Courier to their Court.

Weſtminſter, February 17. This Day the Parliament met, and was further Prorogu'd to Tueſday the 3d of March.

Whitehall, Feb. 17. Major General Pearce, who commanded Her Majeſty's Forces in Portugal, is returned hither; he has had the Honour to kiſs Her Majeſty's Hand, and was very graciouſly received.

Whitehall, February 20. A Conge d'Elire is paſs'd under the Great Seal, for electing the Reverend Dr. Ottley Biſhop of St. Davids, in the room of the Right Reverend Dr. Biſſe, who is tranſlated to the See of Hereford.

The Letter ſigned A. B. C. and dated February the 19*th*, 1712-13. was received by the Right Hon. the Lord Viſcount Bolingbroke.

Whereas the Time allow'd for adjuſting the Properties to the Benefit Tickets in the Lotteries N°1.
